Ephesus

A place of spiritual battle

- N.T. Wright suggests that Paul was imprisoned in Ephesus after a riot led by Demetrius the silversmith. Wright's ideas about Paul's imprisonment appear in his biography Paul.
- Wright suggests that Paul's imprisonment in Ephesus was the result of a mob attack. Wright suggests that evil forces rose up against Paul and the Way after he challenged them. He thinks Paul's imprisonment may have been the result of the riot led by Demetrius the silversmith.
- Paul himself doesn't provide details about his imprisonment but mentions multiple imprisonments in 2 Corinthians 11:23 and 1 Corinthians 11:32 mentions hardships in Ephesus.

For the Praise of His Glory

Ephesians 1: What it is all for.

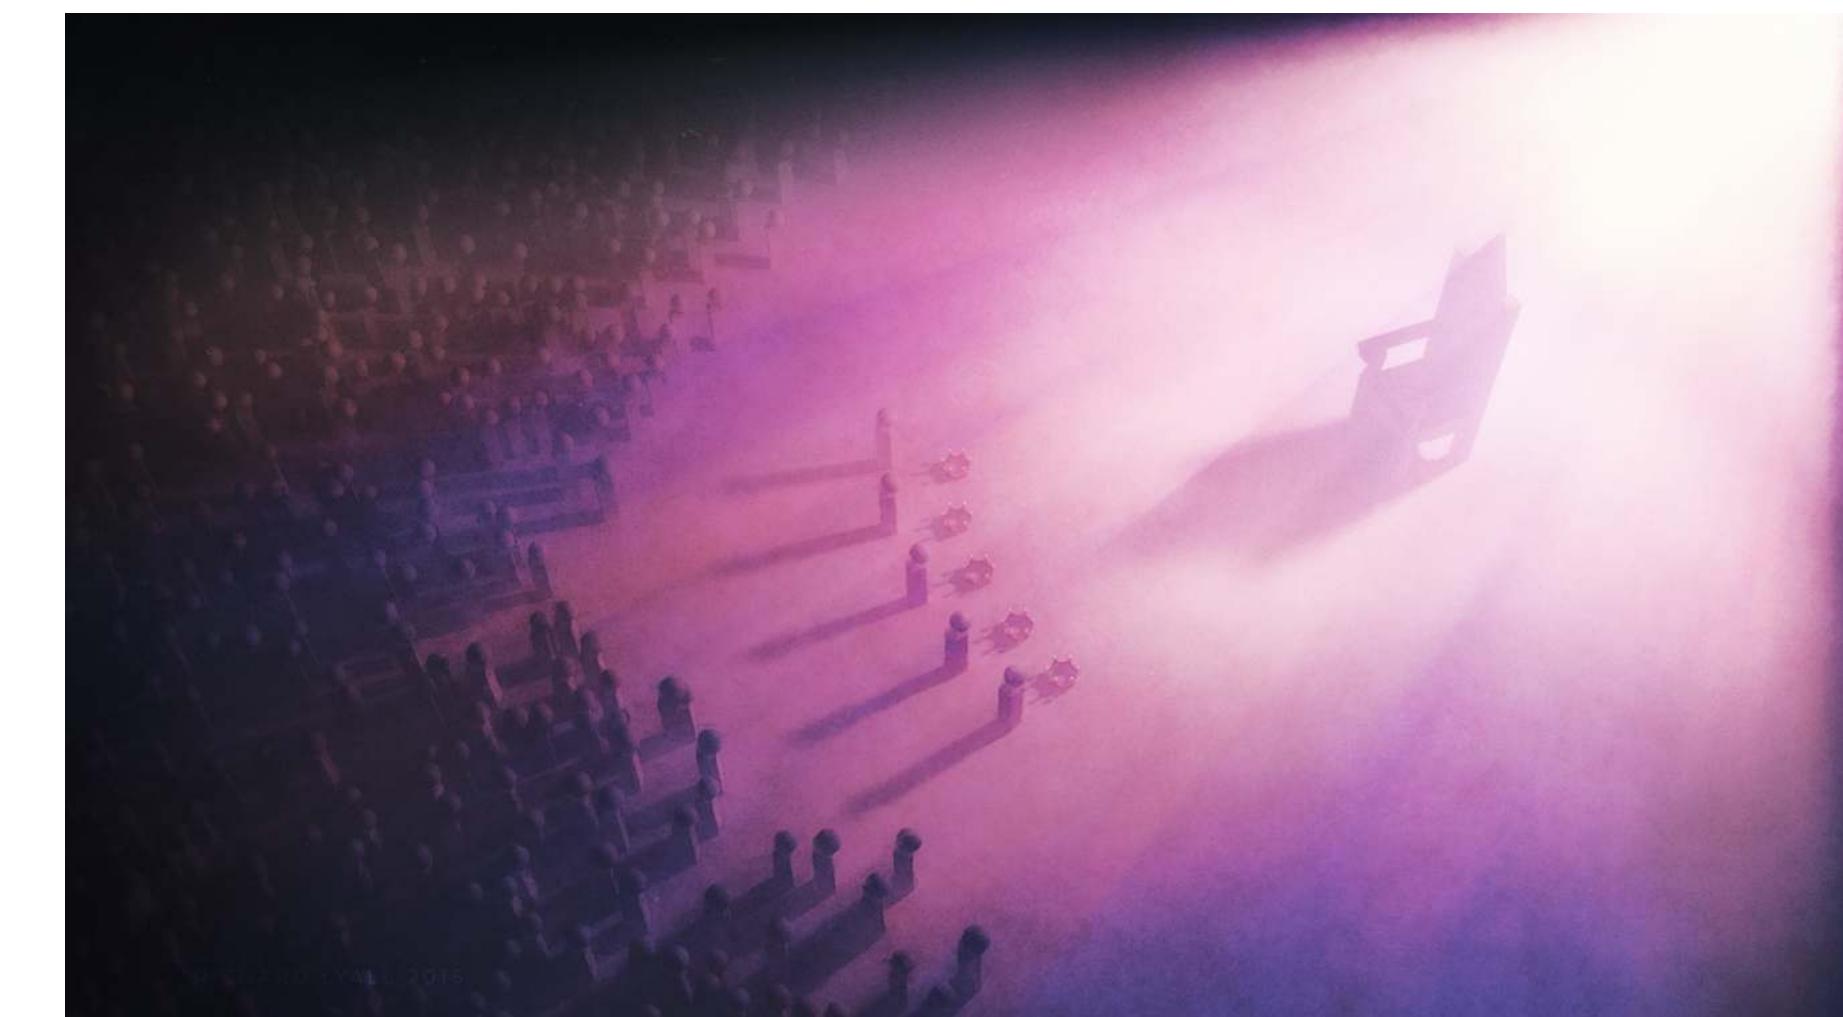

Paul: Chosen | To be an Apostle [cf Acts 9:16]

To: God's holy people [] who are called to be faithful followers

Blessing: May God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ give your grace & peace

Opening: 1. All praise to God who has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly realms... and how has loved, chosen, adopted and made us holy; 2. Who will bring everything together under the authority of Christ + makes everything work out in accordance with his plan, guaranteeing our inheritance with the Holy Spirit; 3. Spiritual insight to see this reality; 4. Jesus is seated far above every spiritual and temporal ruler and authority [and so are you cf. Eph 2:6].

Refrain: “To the Praise of His Glorious Grace/Glory” 1:6, 1:12, 1:14; 3:20, 3:21

‘Great is Artemis of the Ephesians’

What were the Ephesians up against

The cult of the Ephesian Artemis (Diana)

The temple of Artemis was one of the Seven Wonders of the World. Four times the size of the Athenian Parthenon, the famous Temple of Artemis had 127 gleaming marble columns that stood 60 feet tall and were topped with Ionic capitals.

Artemis/Diana was worshiped throughout Asia Minor and the world according to Acts 19.

Artemis was a statue/idol that supposedly fell from heaven as a multi-breasted goddess of fertility.

There were many local idols and local Artemis cults throughout Asia minor.

Artemis had unsurpassed cosmic power attributed to her.

A significant portion of the city's economy depended directly on the temple

Battle of the sexes?

Artemis, daughter of Zeus, was born in the woods near Ephesus. Her twin brother was Apollo and his painful birth took nine days, which left Artemis with no desire to give birth herself. Zeus granted her immunity to Aphrodite's arrows and she became a special sympathy for women giving birth and for virgins.

In this creation narrative, she is born before Apollo and so her followers saw her as the most important. In the Artemis cult, attitudes of female exaltation or superiority existed. The Artemis myth in many ways replaces a much older myth of Cybele and Attis. In that myth the goddess is created first before her male consort. [Cybele is also known as Kubaba, and possibly has antecedents in Hittite religion going back 5000 years].

The name Artemis, from ἀρτέμις, means “to be safe and sound.” In the first century, Strabo wrote “Artemis has her name from the fact that she makes people ‘artemeas’ meaning sound, well, or dehvered” [delivered].

[1 Timothy 2 - written to Ephesus] some women/wives in the female-dominated Artemis culture had an attitude of disregarding their marriage and lording over their husbands. This was probably fuelled by the ideas of Artemis followers who forbade marriage. In 1 Timothy Paul wants to break a similar pattern in Ephesus. Paul therefore stressed that women who deceived men should not teach in the church, and that Adam came first. If 1 Timothy is an apologetic against false teachings in Ephesus it fits much better with what we know of Paul's missionary practice e.g. in Acts 18, taking Priscilla (and Aquilla) with him and teaching her to teach.

Your Spiritual Battle...

The enemy's agenda (Ephesians 2:1-3).

Depraved | Disobedient

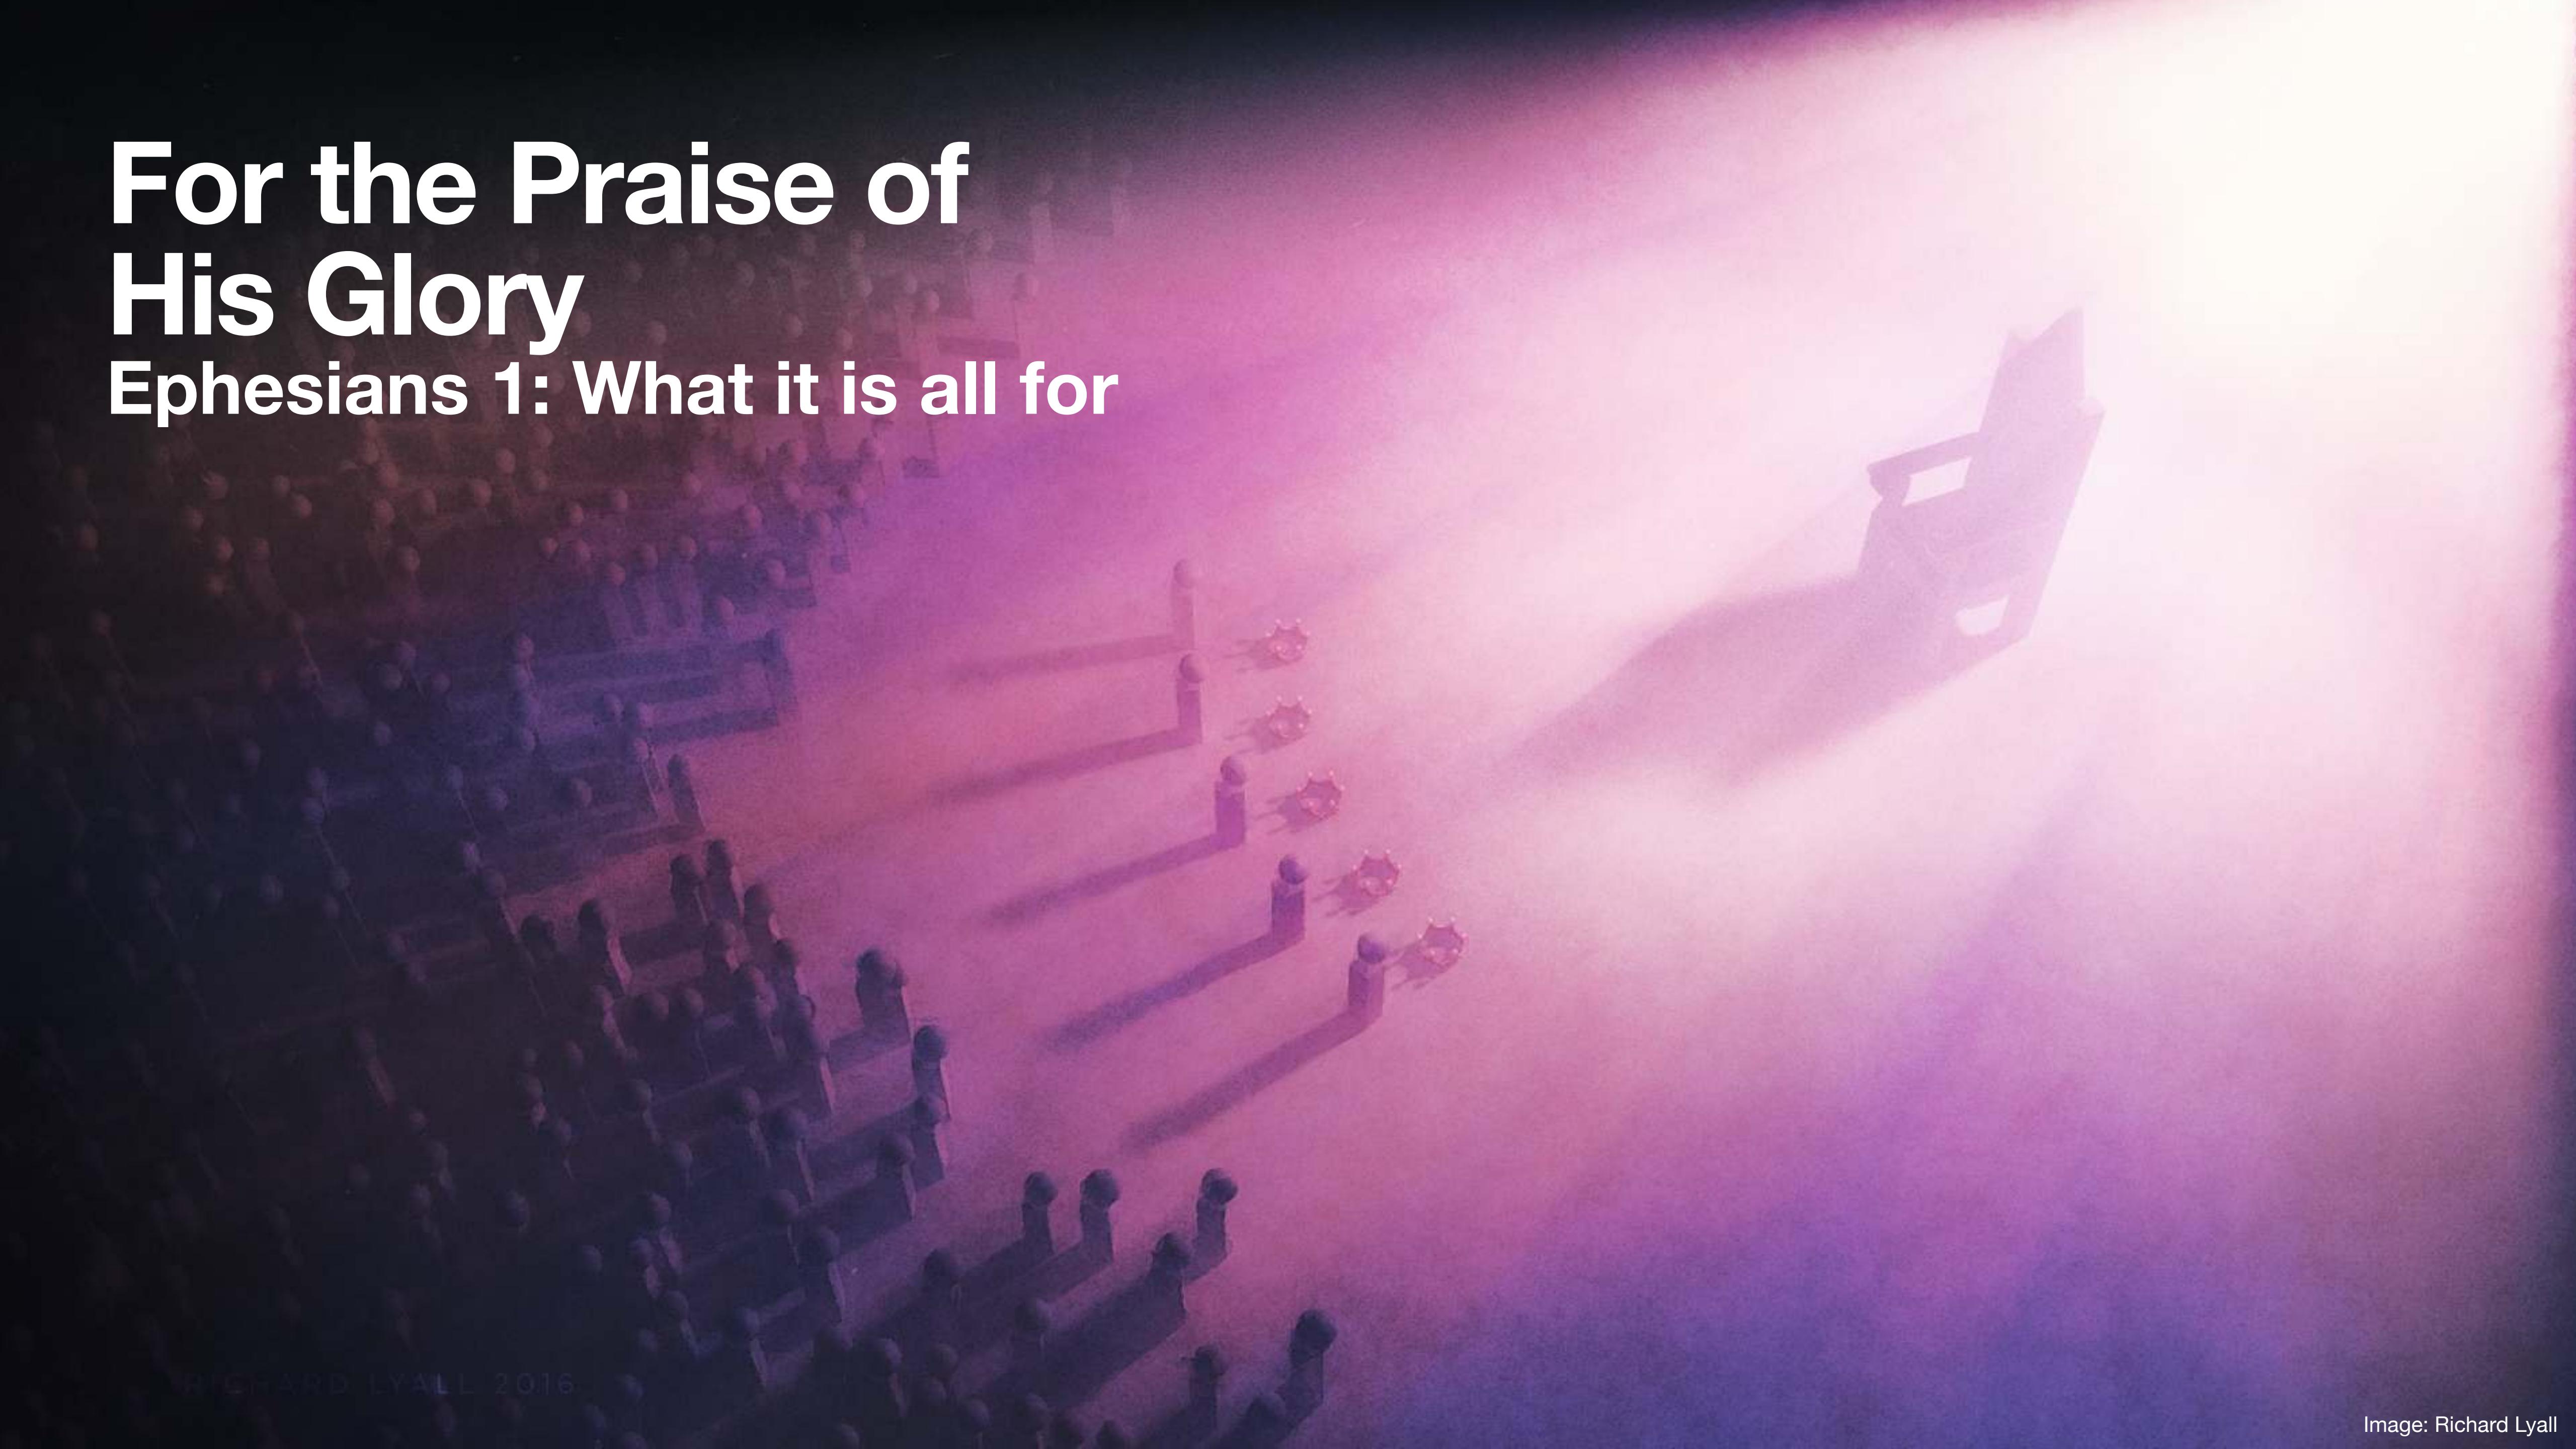

Dead | Deceived | Doomed

You were dead in your transgressions and sins, in which you used to live when you followed the ways of this world and of the ruler of the kingdom of the air, the spirit who is now at work in those who are disobedient. All of us also lived among them at one time, gratifying the cravings of our flesh and following its desires and thoughts. Like the rest, we were by nature deserving of wrath. [NIV]

It wasn't so long ago that you were mired in that old stagnant life of sin. You let the world, which doesn't know the first thing about living, tell you how to live. You filled your lungs with polluted unbelief, and then exhaled disobedience. We all did it, all of us doing what we felt like doing, when we felt like doing it, all of us in the same boat. It's a wonder God didn't lose his temper and do away with the whole lot of us. [MSG]

A community of prayer...

Yesterday something extraordinary happened among the students at a Bible School which became for 4.5 precious hours a Community of Prayer.

The morning had begun with routine. A half empty chapel at 11:05, some joining in online, some away. Some humble notices from a doctor turned theology student, some seemingly routine worship songs, a talk marvelling at the mystery of the efficacy of the cross, from 1 Cor 1, followed by a low key communion with wafers and juice passed along rows to take together, and a semi-reluctant response with participants deciding to stand, or not stand, or slip away by 12:30.

A community of prayer...

But gradually something happened. Already there and been those in the worship response slot pushing on in worship, already there had been a build up to Easter in people's recent memories and a devotion to the crucified and risen saviour that had been forged through Holy Week and Lent and the chance to be away from college routine for Easter break, already you could hear people praying in tongues during worship songs, trying to catch the wave of God's Spirit that some find they can do during sung worship, and as Tozer more eloquently explained it, join in with the worship already being directed by the Spirit.

A community of prayer...

But then into the microphone came one of the singers expressing her inner longing for the Lord through one of the routine songs, eyes closed, knelt down, unassumingly and humbly refusing to not press deeper into that sanctuary of God we are invited in the Psalms to enter through the gates of with Thanksgiving and into the courts of with Praise. The band and remaining worshippers began to respond. About 25 or so in the room kept going.

... a permission giving invitation to leave was made...

I slipped out to retrieve my books and laptop as I had a prearranged meeting for 12:45 and was due to give a lecture on Mastering Ceremonies at 2pm to the Pastoral Leadership cohort, one of whom was currently singing on the stage.

While out of the room I had a blessed encounter with another priceless student who needed to apologise for some late work, but actually needed some encouragement and a steer for her writing. 5 minutes later I was back in the room and could see the momentum building.

... a permission giving invitation to leave was made...

My 12:45 was in the room and at 1pm came to ask, ‘do we get coffee or stay here’. “It’s obvious isn’t it? We stay.” She was a well established lecturer at the college a longstanding member of faculty responsible for the first semester of the course I teach on. She had seen a few moves of God like this in the chapel over the past 15 years or so, and like me was keen to ride it out and see if the students and some staff in the room would push on deeper in worship. She returned to prayer. I watched on from the sides and waited to see what God would do.

By 1:30 the worship had been going on for 90 minutes after the sermon was over. I had clocked each 30 minute breakthrough and was amazed to see the seamless transitions going on between staff/students on the stage as students increasingly took responsibility for worshipping and moved effortlessly off the stage/platform passing microphones, instruments and even drumming responsibilities to each other. One chorus echoing John the Baptist's 'I must become less, he must become more' seemed really poignant as simple lines and stanzas were repeated over and over again amidst an array of unrehearsed choruses.

Around then a permission giving invitation to leave was given by one of the worshippers in the congregation who was most caught up in prayer. ‘God’s presence is everywhere and goes everywhere so [lease don’t feel you need to stay any longer, there’s no judgement for leaving, but for me I just want to be here because it’s fun.’ She was revealing in God’s love, a first year in college I’d met a couple of times when teaching on the New Wine DY course last year. There was no way she was leaving anytime soon. Nor was anyone else. It was a sweet moment.

Just after 2pm: Video Report

Testimonies, humility, deferring, distraction and a cry from the heart for the college

Another student from my class shared a beautifully broken testimony about how she hadn't wanted to be there today, was distracted with work, going through the motions being in chapel but now God was in her, with her and for her and working through her.

All the while the worship team humbly deferring to each other and an open mic that mixed long bible readings 1 Cor 15, Ezekeil 43, Isaiah 42 among others with meditating on God's precepts and considering God's ways.

Just before 2pm I went to class and told the one student there we were in chapel and left a note for any late arrivals to join us. They were going to learn more in the half an hour of this overflow they might experience than the first half an hour of my lecture (although the Eugene Peterson material on pastoring was very good). Half an hours went by and by. By 3pm the overflow worship was 3 hours in, the whole service nearly 4 hours in. It felt like these students had sat in the presence of Jesus for the duration of his exaltation on the cross and that something significant had been won in the spiritual realms by their tarrying with him there for that length of time.

A member of staff had come and closed an outside door to keep the noise in the chapel, and then some minutes later come and opened it again realising they wanted the Spirit at work in that worship to spread around the corridors and courtyard from this precious time. An intercessor in the room shared her guttural conviction that God wanted a purity of process in the college and that any meetings about the life of the college would only seek to glorify Him.

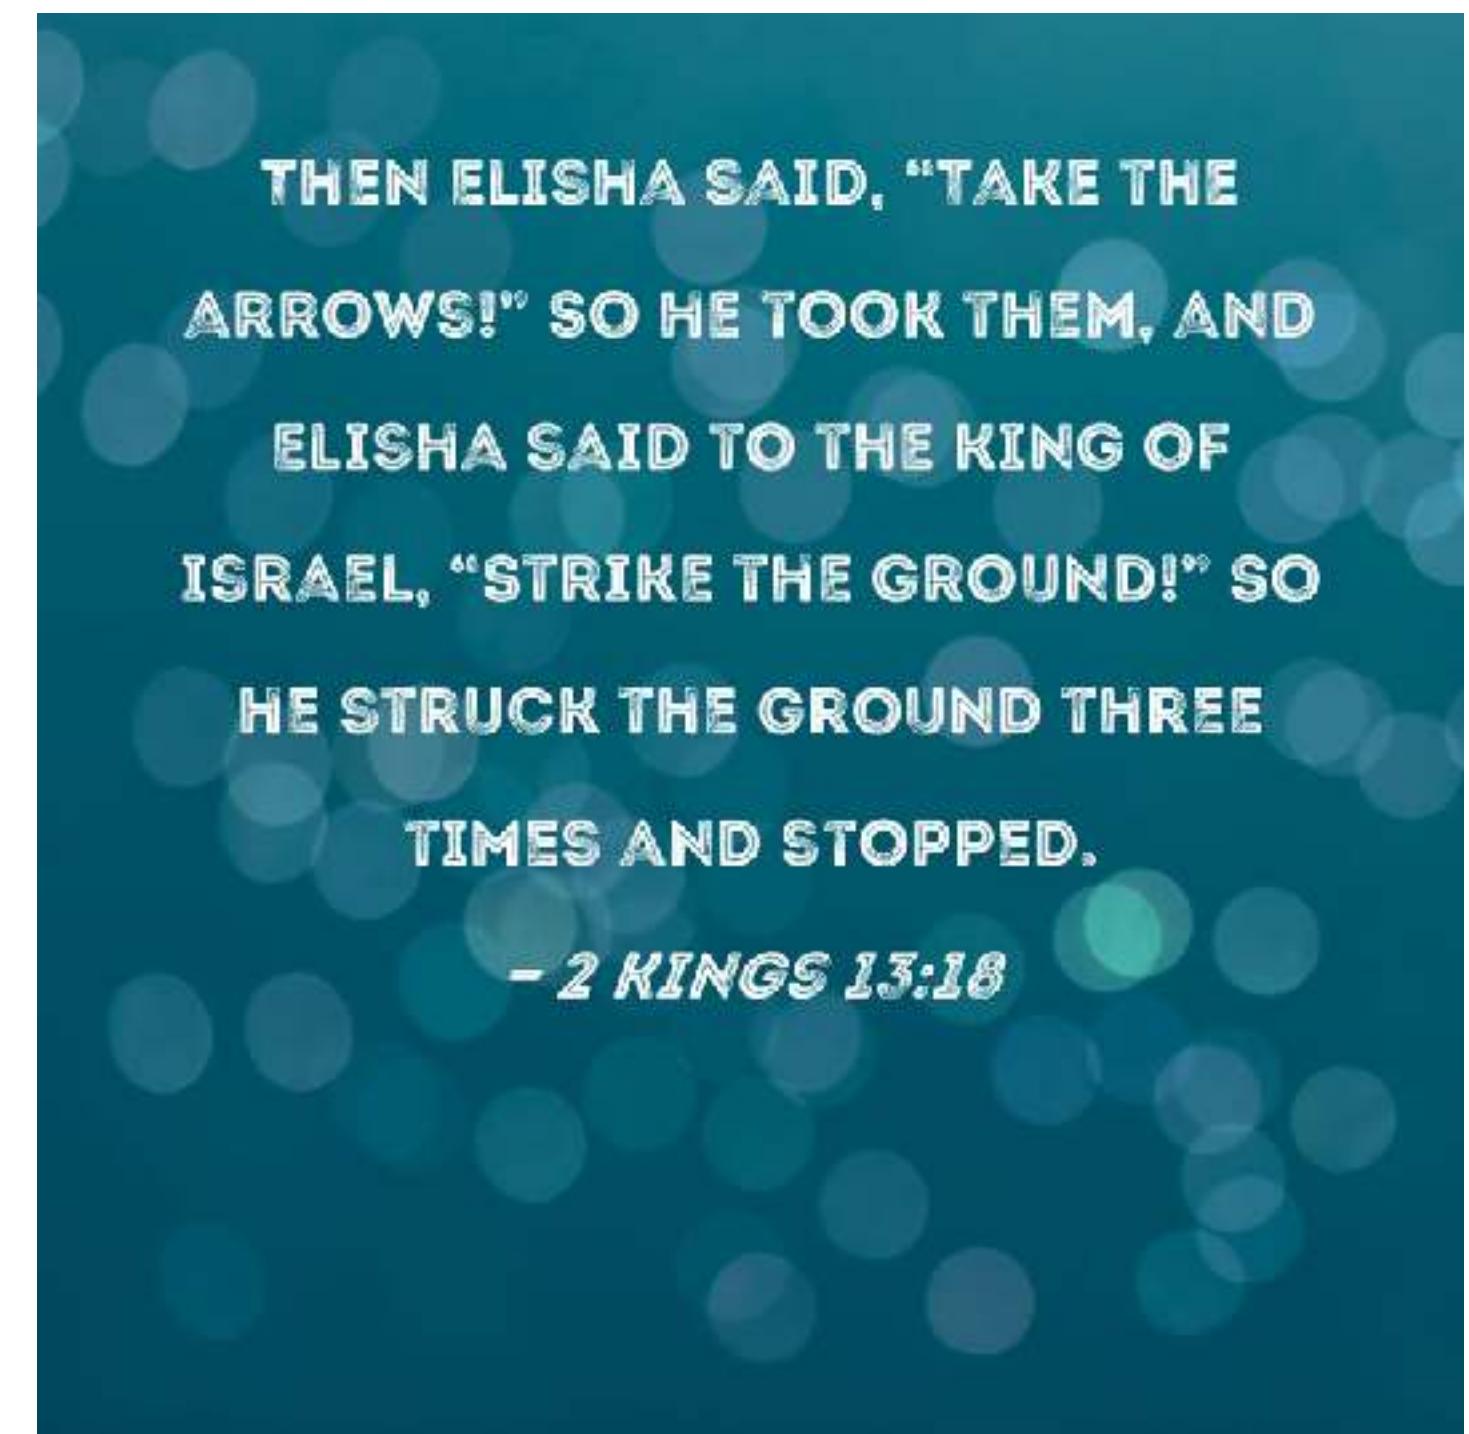

Agony, underbelly of issues, repentance, elemental forces, and striking the ground five or six times...

A longstanding college member had shared her agony early on that these moments had come and gone over the past decade or more, with soft close worship often extending an hour or more for a few weeks at a time, but an underbelly of issues remaining in the college. Perhaps issues the preacher was referring to from 1 Corinthians where divisions could grow as believers rallied around position and people and profile not uniting humbly around the crucified Christ. The 35 or so people now in the room were then led into a place of gentle but thorough repentance, and putting on the whole armour of God before, gently and firmly, any elemental forces that might have held the college to ransom, or spiritual bodies, or ‘princes and principalities’ were bound and banished and the Jude 9 statement was made that Archangel Michael said to the devil when contending about the body of Moses, ‘the Lord rebuke you’.

Ground zero had been reached.

Agony, underbelly of issues, repentance, elemental forces, and striking the ground five or six times...

So far this was all very familiar to me from worship around the world, where it is more than usual for services to carry on for hours, often surfing the waves of the Spirit, sometimes replicating the form in passionate devotion. But from here on it felt like we began to push through to the lower hills of spiritual experience available to saints who set out to climb the mountain of the Lord. A reading from 2 Kings 13: 14-19 invited a heart felt response to 'strike the arrows 5 or 6 times' and there was a sense that this was a group prepared to push on and do that (read it if you don't know the story).

Overflow continues... the next day

For me the overflow continues, the commissioning to go out - love, serve, train - was apt and godly and the breakthroughs in the spiritual realm clear and expected to last, if as a community the college will press 'further in and further on' with God.

As a last word it has long been my contention that theology and bible colleges are some of the most contested spiritual places on the planet. It should not be as the collective spiritual authority of faculty and students far outweighs the guile of the enemy, but they are high profile enemy targets and we are fickle, weak, distracted, prayer less and self-absorbed and sometimes self-motivated, ambitions and proud all of which offers the 'princes and principalities' our Ephesian 6 'battle is against' a way in.

Overflow continues... the next day

The antidote in humility, prayer, obedience, worship and seeking first the Kingdom and living for the praise of His Glorious grace.

Yesterday was a step, a very big step I'd say, in the direction of the cross of Jesus. A spiritual treasure to be treasured and built upon.

‘Overflow: Focus on the Holiness of God & personal & corporate repentance

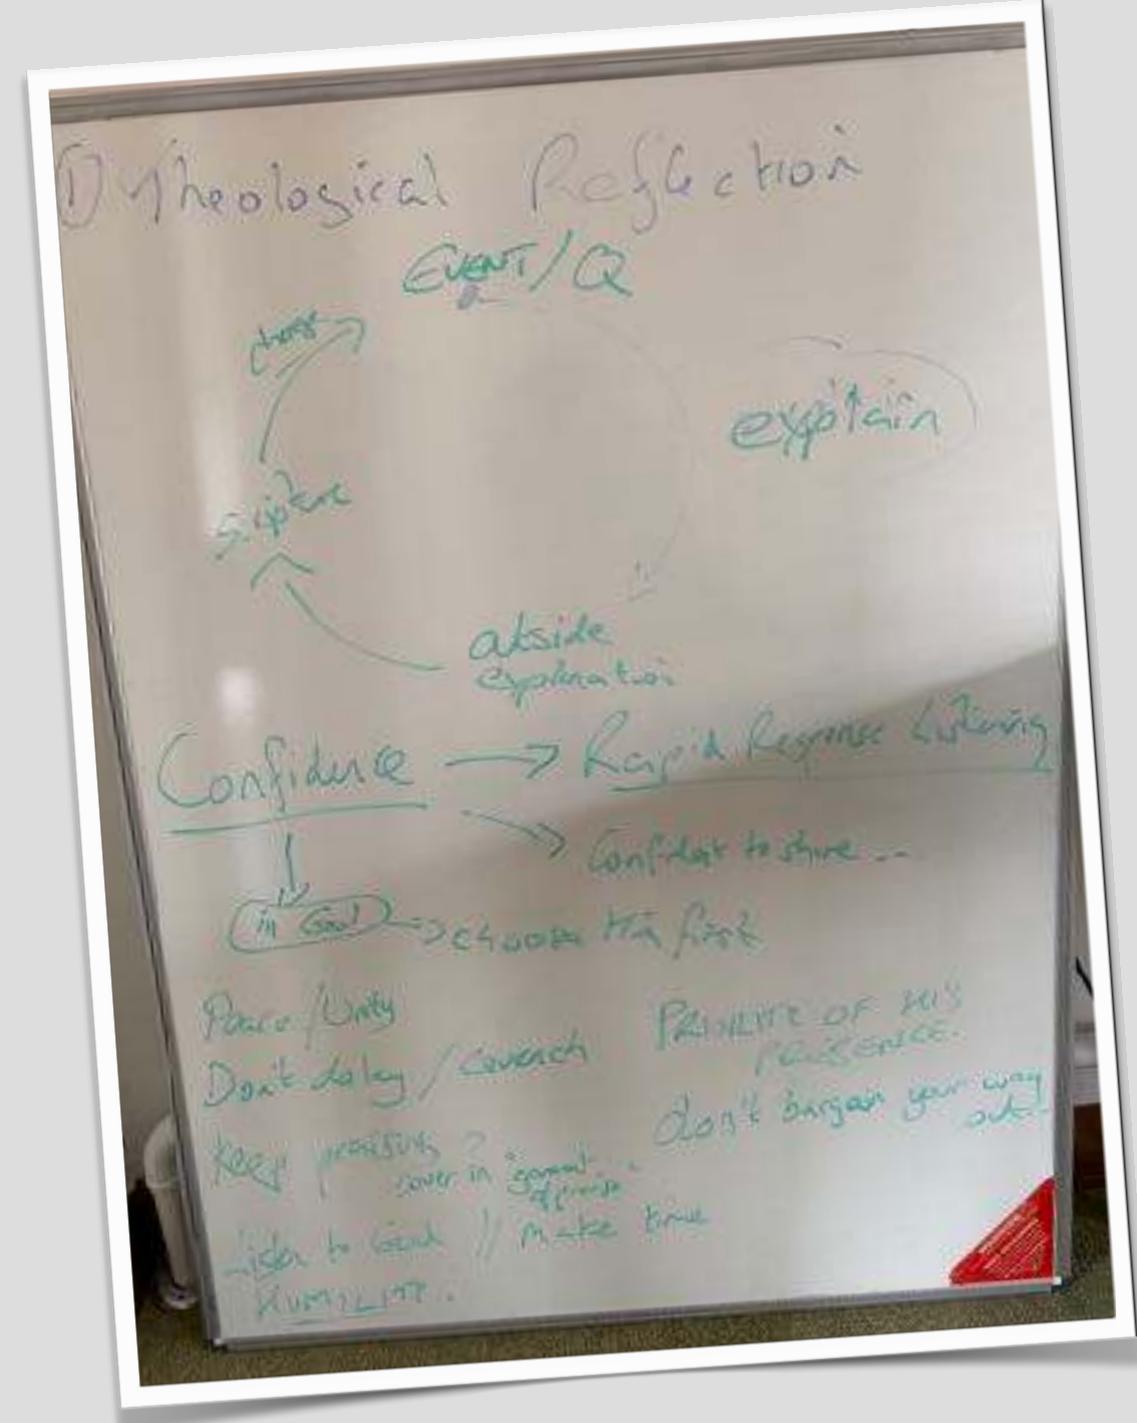

Why Overflow may fissile out...

One of the profound insights of this session is that each of us had different things we thought we might need to do to continue to cultivate this sense of God's presence

For me as an academic, teacher, with a position and power my deepest sense was 'get out of the way' go for humility.

For the chronically busy/stressed with exams and deadlines it was 'make room for God' 'make time' 'don't bargain your way out of God's presence and just give him your minimum (time) and go'

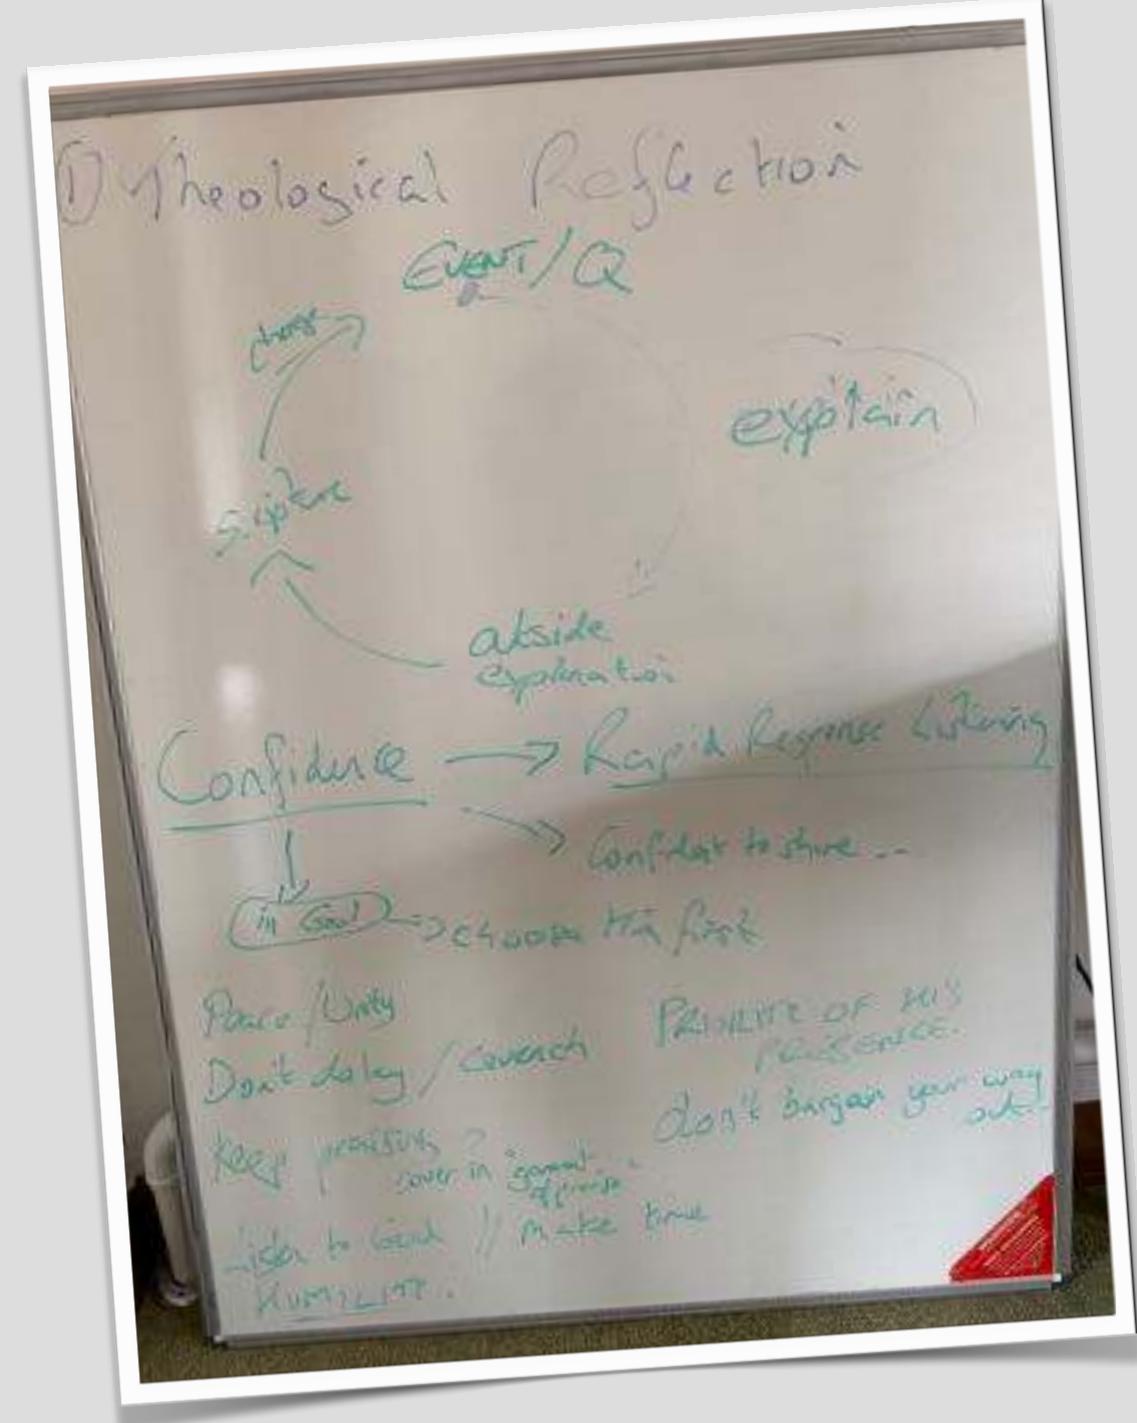

Why Overflow may fissile out...

For two of the younger, least powerful members, it was 'have confidence' - be confident to share what God is saying, choose Him first, be confident in Him.

For several it was 'rapid response listening' - when they got a nudge from God to respond straight away - not take 15 minutes to act and maybe miss the boat.

Others noted the importance of praise 'cover in a garment of praise.' Echoing the Psalm: "I will enter His gates with thanksgiving in my heart, I will enter His courts with praise"

Prioritising his presence, and not letting sin get a foothold were also key themes.

What do we take home?

Overflow - Afterglow - No flow

Repentance as a key gift to the church

Songs focusing on God's holiness and his glory

An attitude that we should fade away

The willingness of the Holy Spirit to lead our worship and prayer times

The pressing in to God's presence (striking the ground 5/6 times)

The beauty of the Lord

The ability to remember and feed our faith on the encounters we had

The way God wants to use all the body to build each other up

The importance of leadership - in getting out of the way as much as taking control

“Let all other names fade away”

What do we take home?

Overflow - Afterglow - No flow

The spiritual battle that can only be won through prayer (and fasting)
The way a few 'hungry' people can be a spiritual conduit for God and others

The way we came away feeling - both unworthy and blessed
The need to help those arriving later to make the '45 minute' journey and catchup in His presence

The importance of giving space and a hearing to the prophets and the agonising cries of their hearts

That God is working through young people, mid-life people and older people.

That we must become less, he must become more

Demolishing Strongholds

Effective Strategies for Spiritual Warfare

David Devenish shares insight drawn from many years of personal experience in helping people break free from strongholds that have bound them. In this no-nonsense guide to spiritual warfare, he gives us effective strategies for spiritual warfare which include:

- Having a biblical model for understanding the enemy's strategies and dealing with them.
- Keeping a balance between the reality of Satan and the demonic realm, our responsibility for our actions, and the absolute sovereignty of God.
- Understanding that strongholds are wrong thinking and learning to use godly power to pull them down.
- Understanding our authority in Christ.
- Knowing our weapons and using them.

'A book full of biblical shocks and surprises that God has owned to cause all heaven (and hell!) to break loose and set thousands free. A superb manual that will make you mad with the devil and eager to sign up and fight.'

Greg Haslam, Westminster Chapel, London

'David's book on demolishing spiritual strongholds is the clearest biblical teaching on the subject I have ever read. This book should be mandatory reading for all serious Christians.'

Barney Coombs, Salt & Light Ministries

'I was captivated and intrigued by the timely warning in Demolishing Strongholds. David Devenish has provided valuable insights on spiritual warfare. This book should be required reading for all who seek to advance the Kingdom of God through intercession.'

John Paul Jackson, Streams Ministries International

David Devenish is based at Woodside Church, Bedford, UK and is developing relationships with many churches in Russia and Ukraine, and encouraging church planting in unreached parts of the world. He has written several books including What on Earth is the Church for? and Fathering Leaders, Motivating Mission, and has developed several training courses. He is married to Scilla and they have four married children.

RICHARD LYALL 2020

As a prisoner in the Lord (3:1, 4:1, 6:20)

What does Glory in the Church look like...?

Romanian Pastor: Richard Wurmbrand d. 17 Feb 2001

I have a vivid memory of being in church listening to a man preach in what sounded to my south coast ears as a very heavy accent. It was the evening service and the church was packed with 600+ people. The man sat for the duration of his 70 minute talk. He told the story of how he had been imprisoned for 14 years in Ceasescu's Communist Romania. I didn't remember it but his wife also was there and gave greetings. She was Imprisoned at the same time as him in a separate prison.

Today I got to listen to the talk again. It was touched by delightful humour, he said they had been married for 100 years – 50 years each, and not a few cultural gaps between 1987 post-communist culture and 2020s in London. But a few things were really remarkable to me:

1. the date the talk was given: 1/11/1987 – 2 years and 2 months before the fall of the communist regime.
2. the date the talk was given: 1/11/1987 – when I was 9.5 years old. What a vision my parents must have had to take me to church for that profound experience. Indeed I started attending the evening service for the next few years as my parents alternated who got to go twice on Sunday and I got some precious 'grown up' time one on one with each of them (this in addition to the excellent morning Sunday school [we had a boys group for 11-14s with 30 lads in it]).
3. a story he told from Communist China, in which he references a group of villagers oppressed in the Boxer Rebellion. All their bibles and hymnals were burnt in front of them, save for one page a brave boy snatched from the fire. The passage saved: Matthew 16.

Redeeming Saul discovering Paul

Ephesians 3:2-13

For I am the least of the apostles, unworthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God (1 Corinthians 15:9 – written from Ephesus AD 52-54).

This grace was given to me – the least of all the saints – to proclaim to the Gentiles the incalculable riches of the Messiah (Ephesians 3:8 – written from prison in Ephesus AD 53-54)

This saying is trustworthy and deserving of full acceptance: “Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners” – and I am the worst of them (1 Timothy 1:15 – written towards the end of his life in 62-64 AD).

Boasting in Sufferings

... 'what is lacking...' Col 1 & 2 Cor 11/12

Colossians 1:24-29 (ESV)

24 Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I am filling up what is lacking in Christ's afflictions for the sake of his body, that is, the church, 25 of which I became a minister according to the stewardship from God that was given to me for you, to make the word of God fully known, 26 the mystery hidden for ages and generations but now revealed to his saints.

quering as apostles of Christ.
wonder, for Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light. 15 It is not surprising, then, if his servants also masquerade as servants of righteousness. Their end will be what their actions deserve.

Paul boasts about his sufferings

16 I repeat: let no one take me for a fool.
But if you do, then tolerate me just as you would a fool, so that I may do a little boasting. 17 In this self-confident boasting I am not talking as the Lord would, but as a fool. 18 Since many are boasting in the way the world does, I too will boast. 19 You gladly put up with fools since you are so wise! 20 In fact, you even put up with anyone who enslaves you or exploits you or takes advantage of you or puts on airs or slaps you in the face. 21 To my shame I admit that we were too weak for that!

Whatever anyone else dares to boast about—I am speaking as a fool—I also dare to boast about. 22 Are they Hebrews?
So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they Abraham's descendants? So am I.
23 Are they servants of Christ? (I am out of my mind to talk like this.) I am more. I have worked much harder, been in prison more frequently, been flogged more severely, and been exposed to death again and again. 24 Five times I received from the Jews the forty lashes minus one. 25 Three times I was beaten with rods, once I was pelted with stones, three times I was shipwrecked, I spent a night and a day in the open sea; 26 I have been constantly on the move. I have been in danger from rivers, in danger from bandits, in danger from my fellow Jews, in danger from Gentiles; in danger in the city, in danger in the country, in danger at sea; and in danger from false believers. 27 I have laboured and toiled and have often gone without sleep; I have known hunger and thirst and have often gone without food; I have been cold and naked. 28 Besides everything else, I face daily the pressure of my concern for and Father, 29 who has been praised forever, knows that I am not lying.

30 In Damascus the governor under King Aretas had the city of the Damascenes guarded in order to arrest me. 31 But I was lowered in a basket from a window in the wall and slipped through his hands.

Paul's vision and his thorn

12 I must go on boasting. Although there is nothing to be gained, I will go on to visions and revelations from the Lord. 21 I know a man in Christ who fourteen years ago was caught up to the third heaven. Whether it was in the body or out of the body I do not know—God knows.
3 And I know that this man—whether in the body or apart from the body I do not know, but God knows—4 was caught up to paradise and heard inexpressible things, things that no one is permitted to tell.
5 I will boast about a man like that, but I will not boast about myself, except about my weaknesses. 6 Even if I should choose to boast, I would not be a fool, because I would be speaking the truth. But I refrain, so no one will think more of me than is warranted by what I do or say, 7 or because of these surpassingly great revelations.
Therefore, in order to keep me from becoming conceited, I was given a thorn in my flesh, a messenger of Satan, to torment me. 8 Three times I pleaded with the Lord to take it away from me. 9 But he said to me, 'My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness.'
Therefore I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, so that Christ's power may rest on me. 10 That is why, for Christ's sake, I delight in weaknesses, in insults, in hardships, in persecutions, in difficulties. For when I am weak, then I am strong.

Paul's concern for the Corinthians

11 I have made a fool of myself, but you drove me to it. I ought to have been

What is it all about?

For this reason I kneel before the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth derives its name. I pray that out of his glorious riches he may strengthen you with power through his Spirit in your inner being, so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith...

...Now to him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to his power that is at work within us, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, for ever and ever! Amen.

And I pray that you,

- 1) They both proclaimed the doctrine of original sin and the Bible's depiction of the fallen human condition. They insisted that according to the Scriptures, apart from divine intervention, every person, without exception, is deserving of God's just condemnation.
- 2) God's response to this dire diagnosis, is the good news of God's unmerited kingdom towards undeserving sinners. They insisted that by God's grace, individuals can have their sins forgiven and stand justified in God's sight, only through faith in the merits of Jesus's substitutionary sacrifice.
- 3) The necessity of spiritual regeneration, and that this experience of the "new birth" marked the entry point to a life of expectant progressive sanctification

... and additionally...

4) Both men are clear that scripture is the book of truth, the only standard of truth.

5) Their doctrine of sin and theological anthropology that 'we are all dead in sin and trespasses', has eternal consequences. For both, humanity needs rescuing from original sin. Sin is a loathsome leprosy, not easy to shake off, and not simply a sickness to recover from. As we have seen both share an eschatology that compels their discipleship goals. They are clear that there is a judgment to come, and a desire to flee the wrath to come is necessary for those who seek new birth.

Holiness - the ‘chief reason the people called Methodists were raised up’ [Wesley].

Early Methodism had a clear, compelling discipleship goal of a ‘holy people for a holy God.’ Birthed in the spiritual furnace of the Oxford Holy Club, this focus on sanctification had for them a compelling theological rationale and was a clear focus of teaching and espoused theology. In his 1783 sermon, The General Spread of the Gospel, John Wesley recounted the whole purpose of his life’s work as:

‘Between fifty and sixty years ago, God raised up a few young men, in the University of Oxford, to testify those grand truths: That without holiness no man shall see the Lord; that this holiness is the work of God... that this holiness was the mind that is in Christ.’

Whitefield likewise, despite his Calvinist stance and aversion to perfectionism, also maintained the goal of holiness. Holiness is rooted for both men in their theological scheme that begins with original sin and ends with eschatology and eternity.

Growing up in love
Ephesians 4-5:20

YOU
CRAFTSMANSHIP.

(EPH 2:10)

Make every effort

Living a life worthy of the calling

As a prisoner for the Lord, then, I urge you to live a life worthy of the calling you have received. Be completely humble and gentle; be patient, bearing with one another in love. Make every effort to keep the unity of the Spirit through the bond of peace. There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to one hope when you were called; one Lord, one faith, one baptism; one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all.

Grace has been given So we are no longer tossed around

So Christ himself gave the apostles, the prophets, the evangelists, the pastors and teachers, to equip his people for works of service, so that the body of Christ may be built up until we all reach unity in the faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God and become mature, attaining to the whole measure of the fullness of Christ.

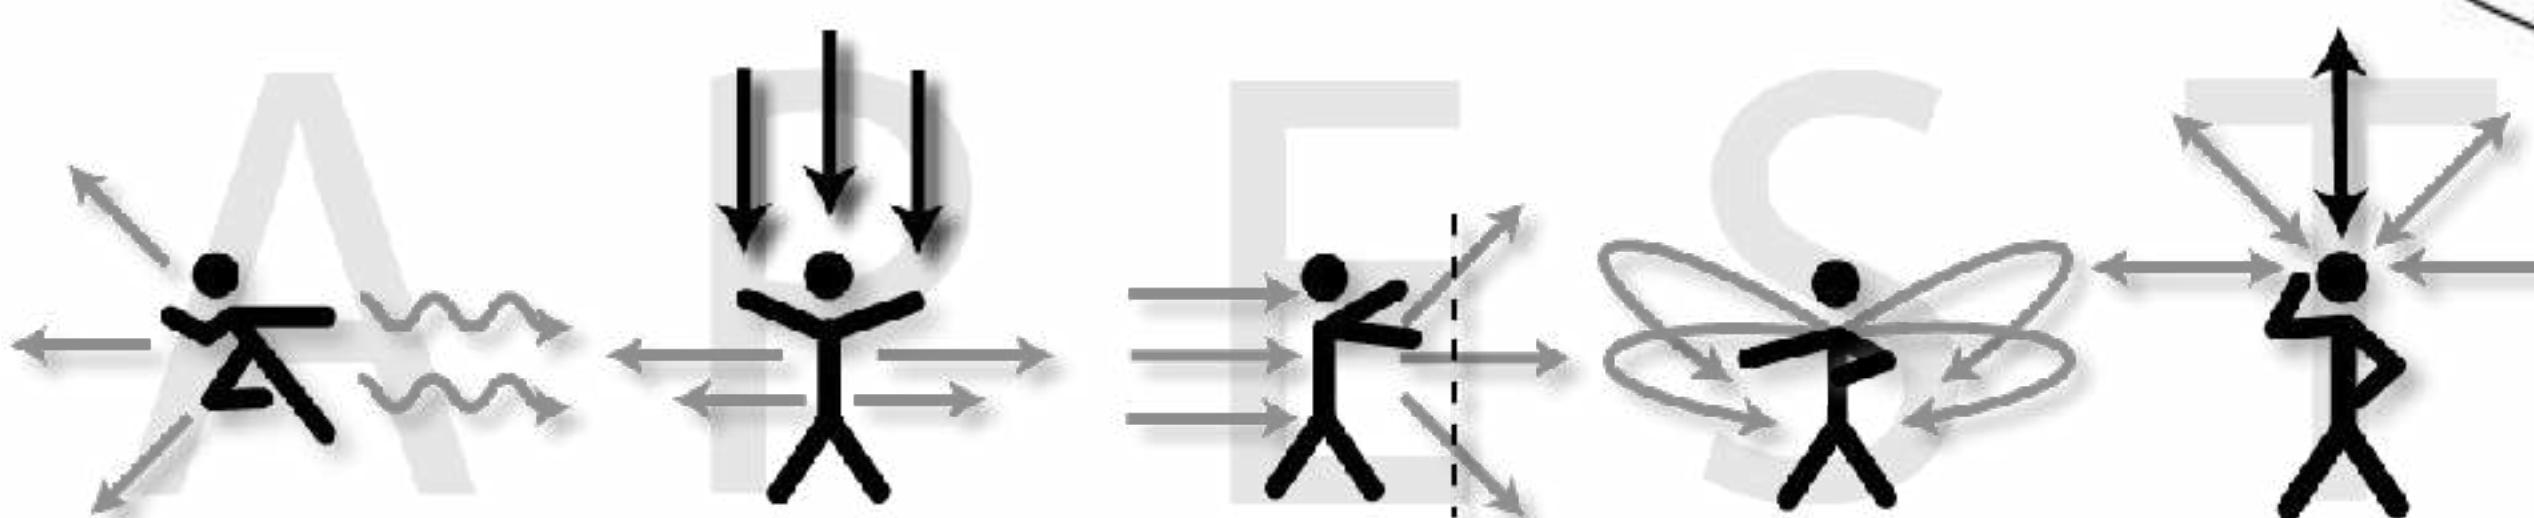

Then we will no longer be infants, tossed back and forth by the waves, and blown here and there by every wind of teaching and by the cunning and craftiness of people in their deceitful scheming. Instead, speaking the truth in love, we will grow to become in every respect the mature body of him who is the head, that is, Christ. From him the whole body, joined and held together by every supporting ligament, grows and builds itself up in love, as each part does its work.

Maturity means right living... [Chp 4:17-32]

So we are no longer tossed around

So I tell you this, and insist on it in the Lord, that you must no longer live as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their thinking...
[17]

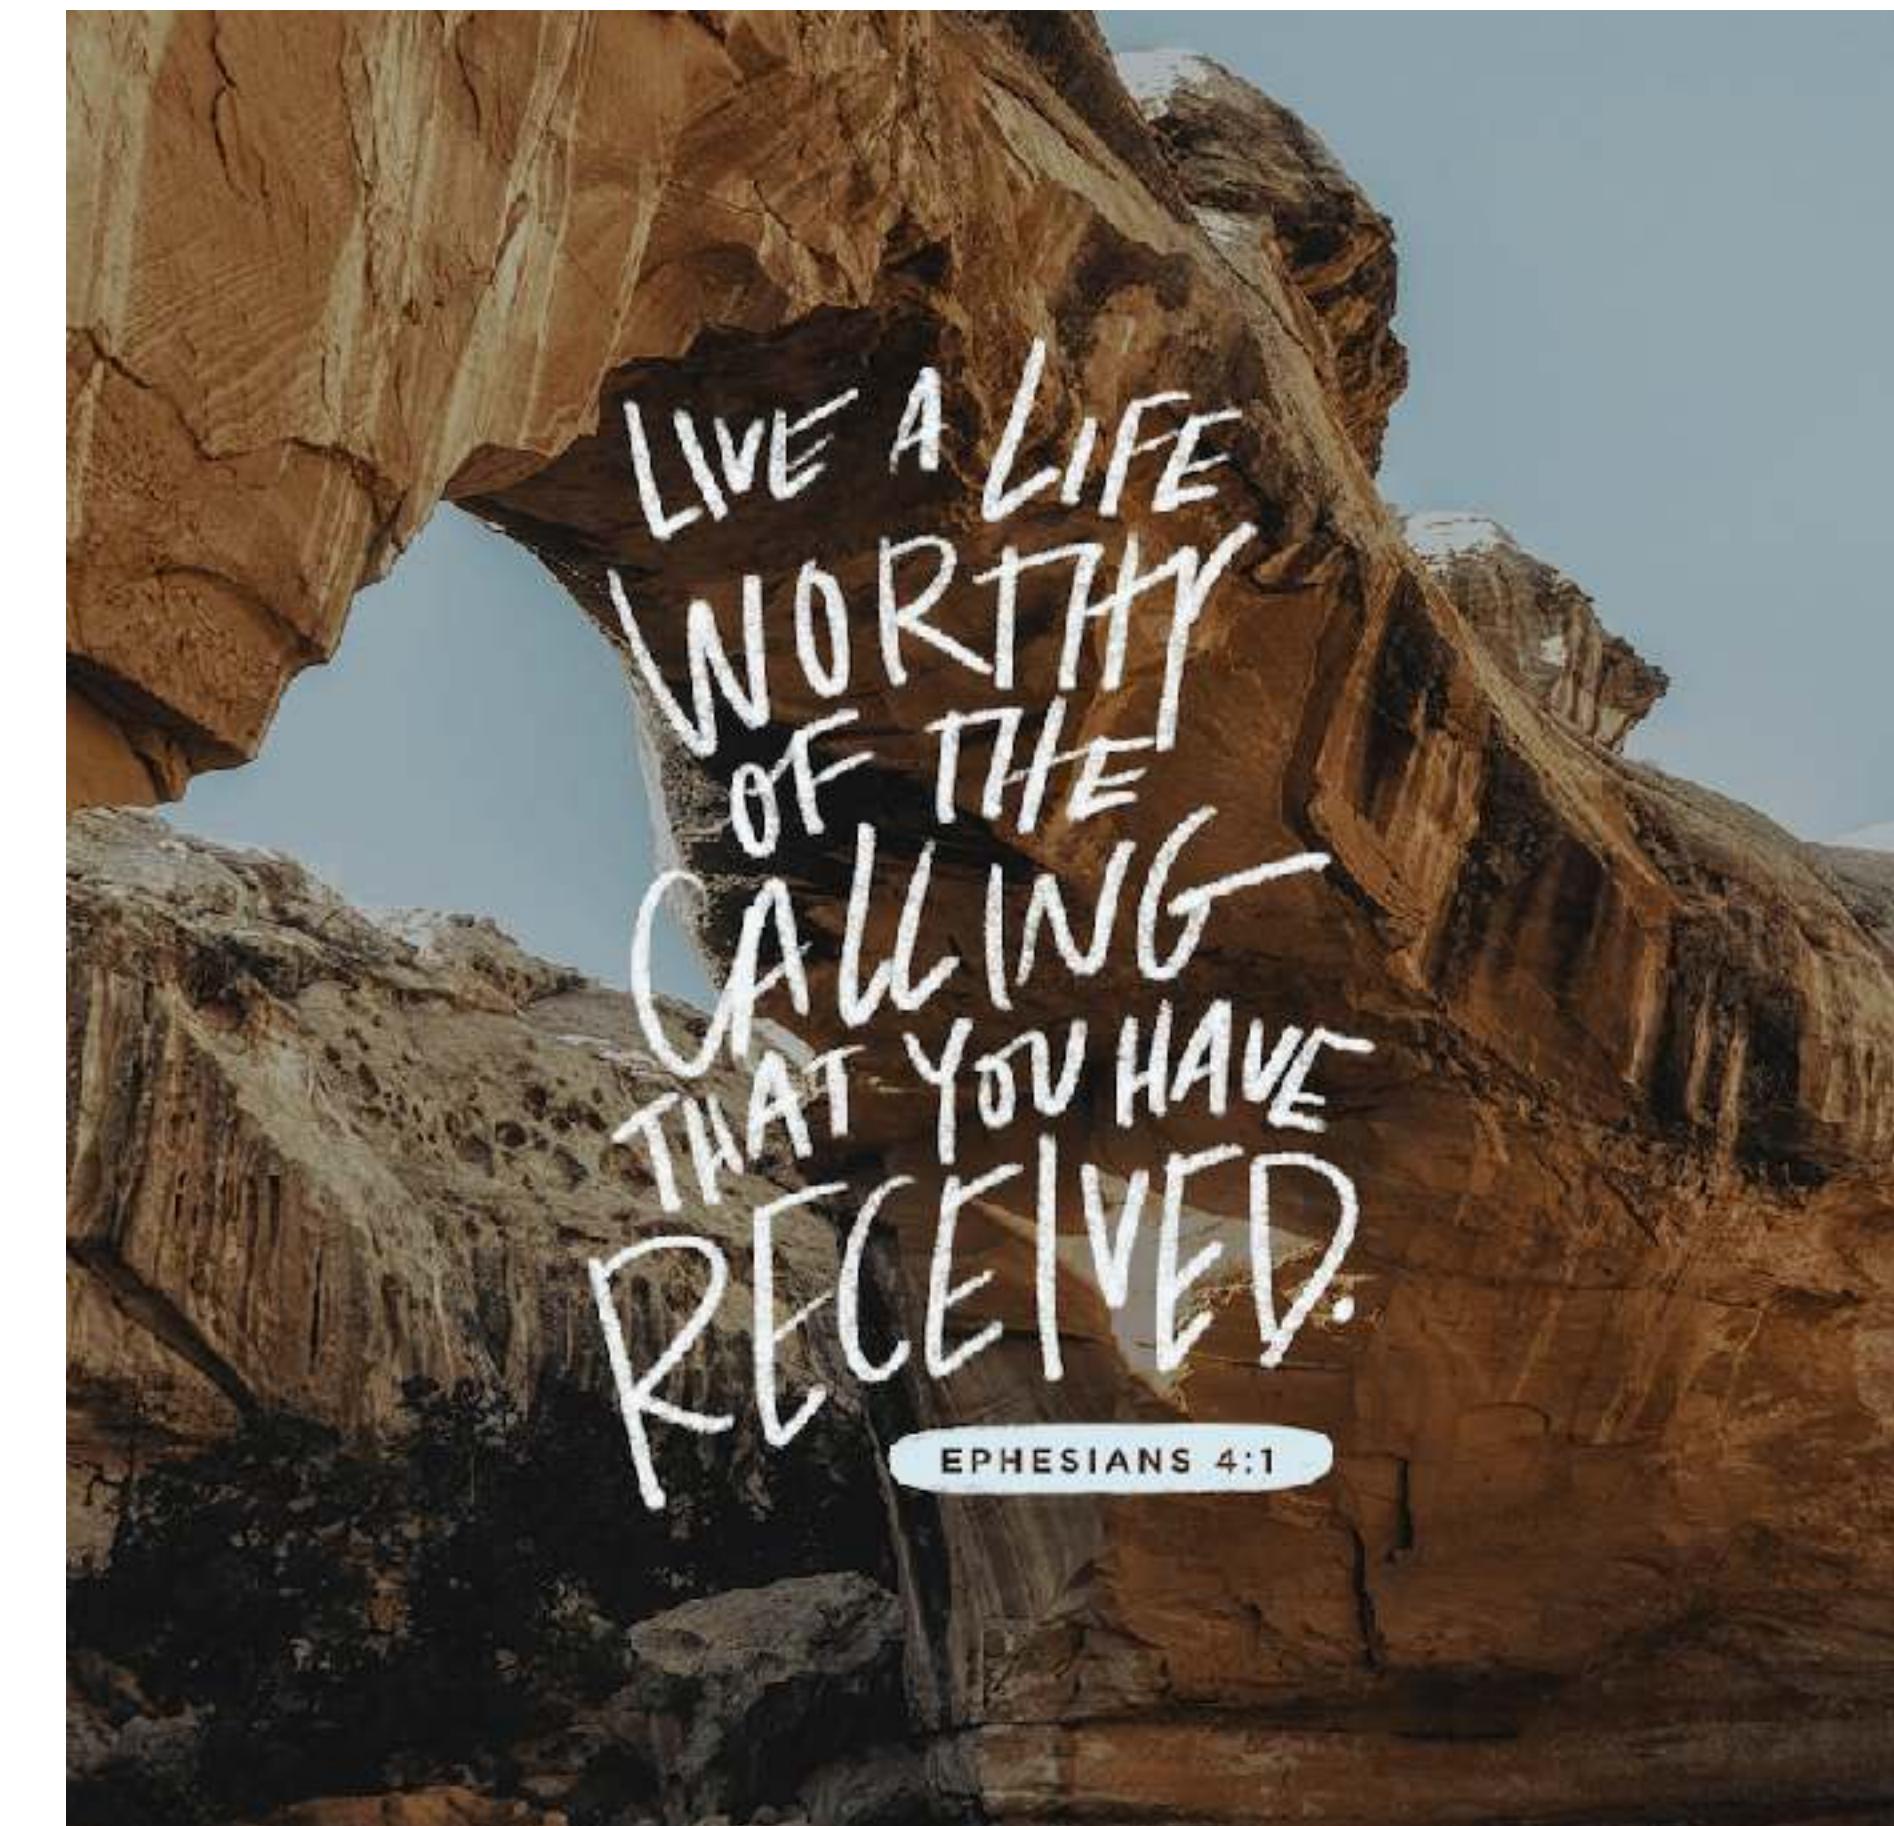

...You were taught, with regard to your former way of life, to put off your old self, which is being corrupted by its deceitful desires; to be made new in the attitude of your minds; and to put on the new self, created to be like God in true righteousness and holiness. [22-24]

In your anger do not sin [26]

Do not let any unwholesome talk come out of your mouths [29]

Do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, with whom you were sealed for the day of redemption [30]

...forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you. [32]

Walk the way of love [Chp 5]

So we are no longer tossed around

there must not be even a hint of:

sexual immorality | impurity | greed | obscenity | foolish talk | coarse joking

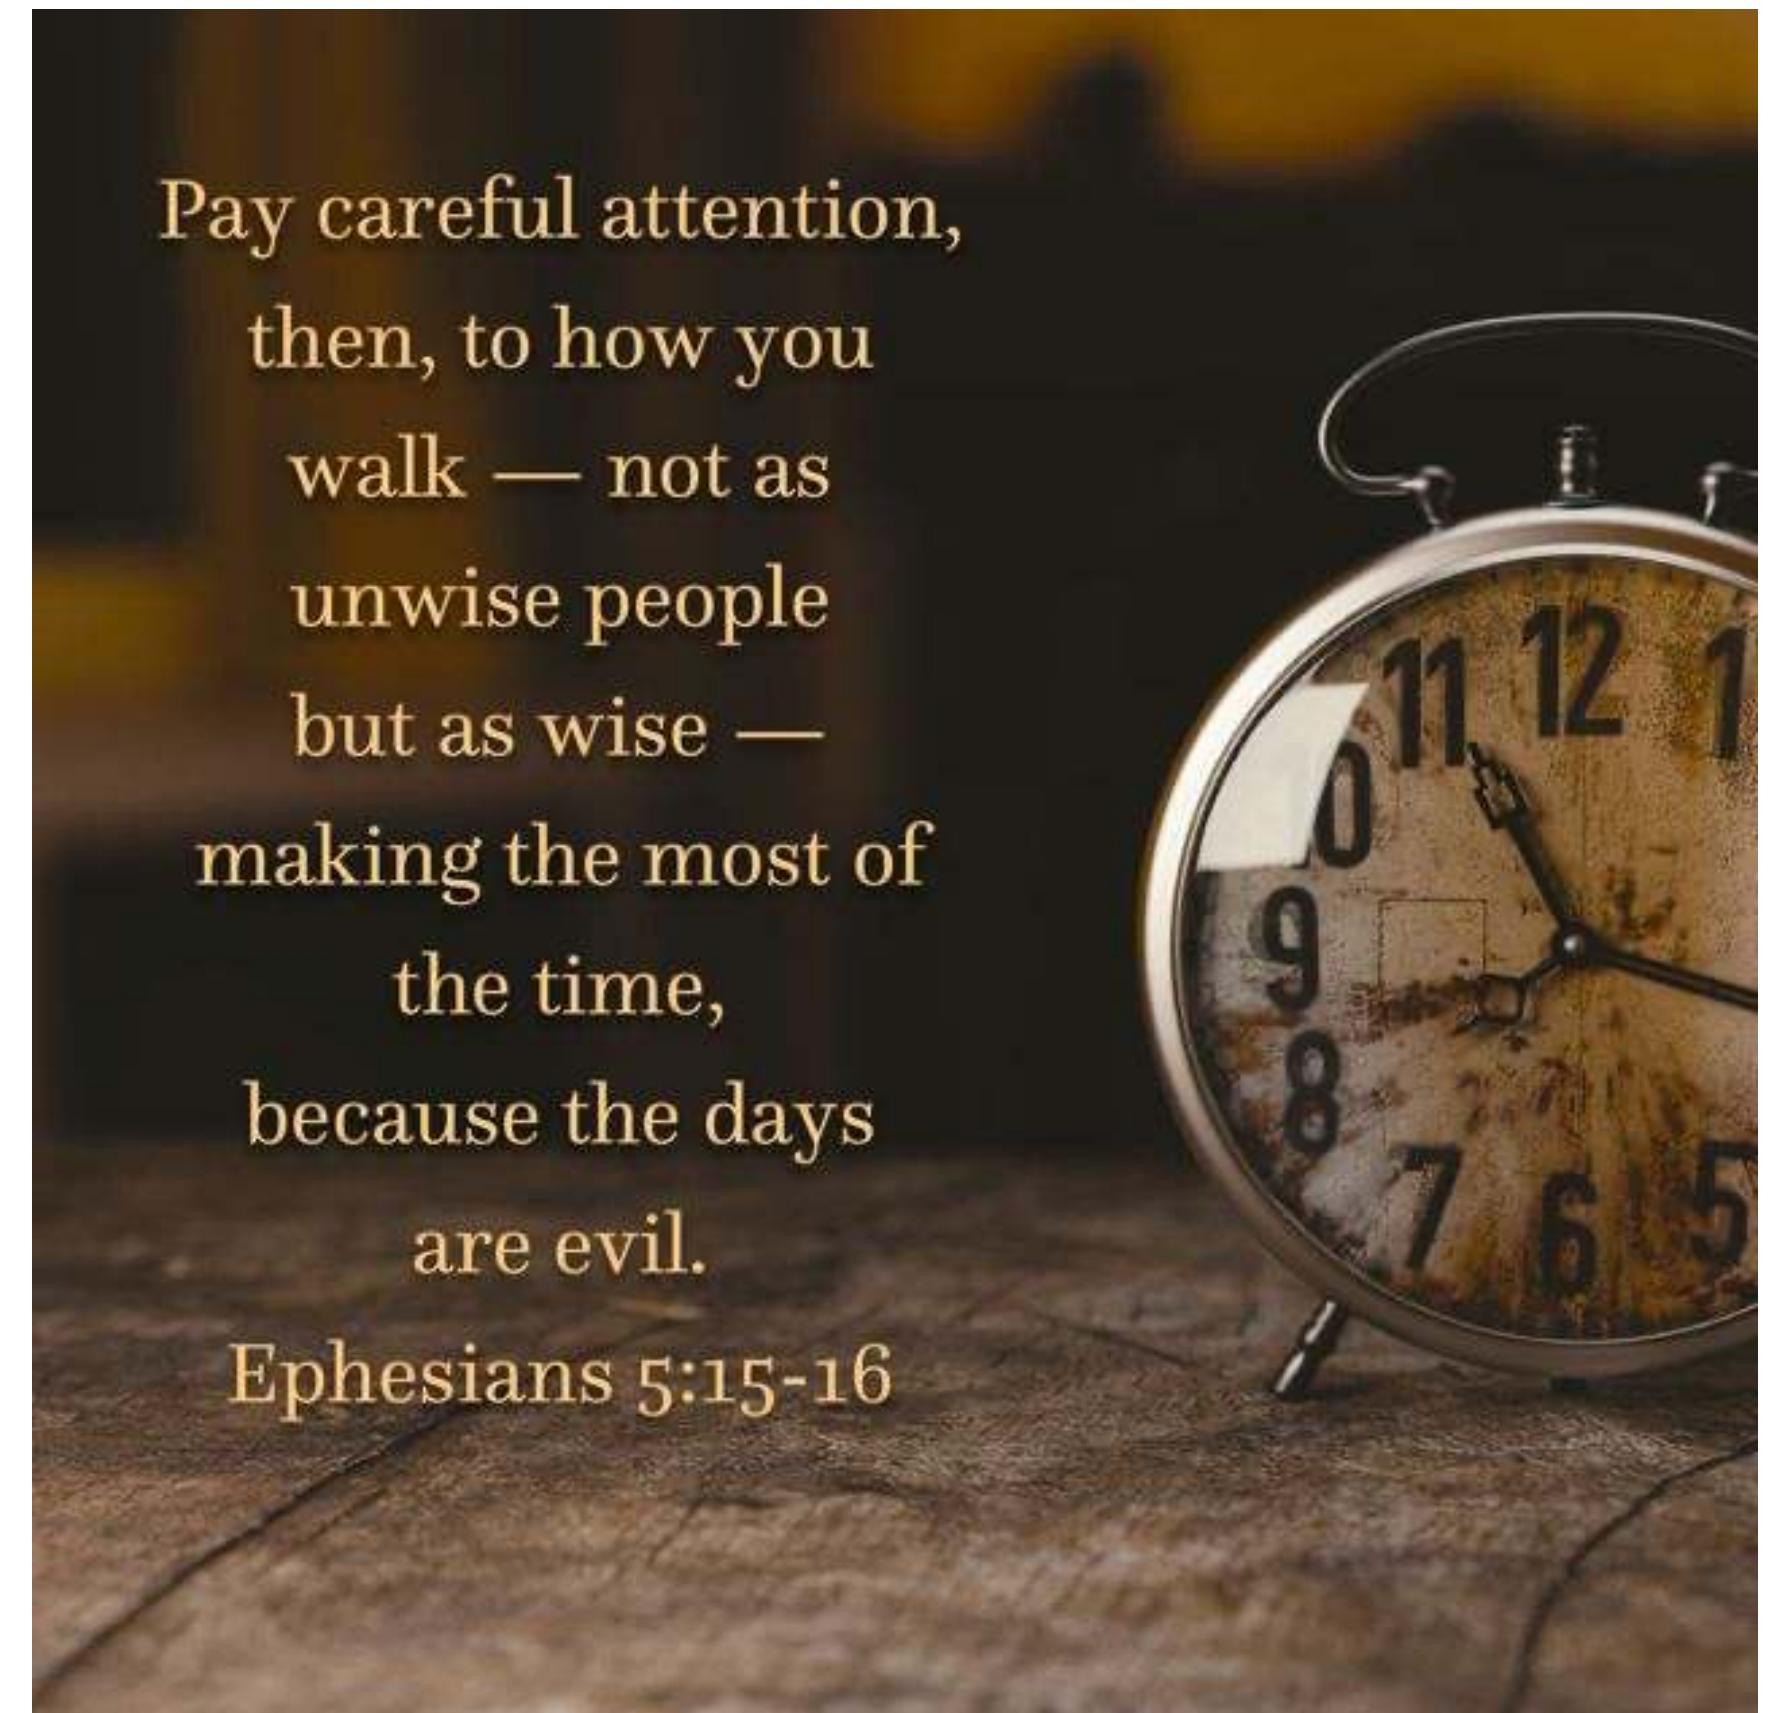

No immoral, impure or greedy person—such a person is an idolater—has any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of such things God's wrath comes on those who are disobedient. Therefore do not be partners with them.

[1-7]

...instead be [continuously] filled with the Spirit [19]

Pay careful attention, then, to how you walk — not as unwise people but as wise — making the most of the time,
because the days
are evil.
Ephesians 5:15-16

A great mystery

Husbands and Wives | The Church
Ephesians 5:21-6:12

Ephesians 5:21-33

“ Submit to one another out of reverence for Christ.

Wives, submit yourselves to your own husbands as you do to the Lord. For the husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the church, his body, of which he is the Savior. Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit to their husbands in everything.

Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her to make her holy, cleansing her by the washing with water through the word, and to present her to himself as a radiant church, without stain or wrinkle or any other blemish, but holy and blameless. In this same way, husbands ought to love their wives as their own bodies. He who loves his wife loves himself. After all, no one ever hated their own body, but they feed and care for their body, just as Christ does the church— for we are members of his body. “For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two will become one flesh.” This is a profound mystery—but I am talking about Christ and the church. However, each one of you also must love his wife as he loves himself, and the wife must respect her husband.

We don't want the 1950s

Stepford Wives, 2004

Key things to remember:

Critique our culture: It is not perfect
Wrestle with the scripture, but don't discard Know the context it is written to
At the heart is a calling to submit to each other

For the praise of her glory...
'Great is Artemis of the Ephesians'

Christian Submission is

- Mutual
- Voluntary
- Not coerced
- Our first submission is always to Jesus
- Jesus is our motivation in our submission to others
- Jesus is our boundary in our submission to others

Two Views

Swap the sexes and keep the meaning

Within marriage there is a particular order of leadership

OR...?

Wives, submit to your own husbands, as you do to the Lord

WHAT IT DOES MEAN	WHAT IT DOES NOT MEAN
A voluntary choice	Submission to all men, not men at work or in the church – just in marriage!
In a mutual and equal relationship of love	To a boyfriend
When a husband is leading in a godly way	To a husband who is not first submitting to Jesus
	To be forced, coerced or strongly encouraged to submit
	To be forced to stay in a marriage that is abusive
	That maleness is more important/special & that women cannot lead!
